

ALBANY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, MAY 29, 1929

HOW TELEPHONE ADDITION WILL APPEAR

Architect's conception of the way the new addition to the New York Telephone company's building when completed. The addition is directly behind the main structure at 158 State street and 170 feet from the rear line of the present building along Park street and will have a front facade of brick and stone, conforming with the present building. The building is to be nine stories above ground level. The foundation work is practically completed and the erection of steel has started. The outside of the building will be of brick and stone, conforming with the present building. It is to house additional equipment and provide more office space for the company.

HEADS JUNIOR DETROIT

and Architect Hill School. Jones, superintendent, accompanied by Archibald, architect for the school to be built in Detroit. Several weeks Mr. DeLeon's studying plans for school in conference department heads. The school will be built in Detroit. The school will be built in Detroit. The school will be built in Detroit.

Montgomery Ward Centers Industrial Eyes of Capital District on Albany Markets

Manufacturers' Representatives in Dozen States Summoned to Display Their Products in Preparation for Vast Buying Program.

The attention of 20,000 manufacturers from the Canadian border to South Carolina will be concentrated on Albany and the Capital District by direct appeal during the next few months. The dollar sign, symbolic of increased production, will be dangled before their eyes. While civic committees are planning advertising programs for the city and wondering how they can lure new enterprises to town, G. R. Bangs, merchandiser manager in charge of the Albany buying organization for Montgomery Ward and company, has gone into the field with a specific guarantee of new business for manufacturers. Today, to his office in the Merchants' plant of the mail order house, came representatives of glove houses in Troy, paper manufacturers in Albany, shoe companies of Gloversville, paper makers of Amsterdam, and Mr. Bangs said was the broom manufacturing center of the country. These persons came by direct invitation, some of them with samples, and all of them ready to talk business with the greatest outlet for manufactured products on the eastern seaboard. "We believe that we can find within 150 miles of Albany nearly every manufactured article listed in our catalog," said Mr. Bangs. "We are going over the entire territory to find the best quality and price being equal." Transportation is a most vital factor and we will always offer our business to the nearest production point. Millions of dollars worth of merchandise will be required to keep the stock shelves of the company filled. Not only is Mr. Bangs and his group of four buyers required to supply the needs of the mail order division, but he must find sources of supply for the retail department store and for the retail chain stores of the company in this district. These will number Albany within a year. The Albany plans will be the reserve supply depot. Mr. Bangs has gone about the problem before him with exhaustive thoroughness. He wrote first to the New York State Chamber of Commerce for a list of chambers of commerce and similar organizations in the state. The same query was sent to other states in the district served by the Albany office. In all he has compiled the addresses of 729 chambers of commerce in northeastern United States. To the secretary of each of these chambers he is writing this letter or one similar to it. "Our company has recently established buying offices at Albany, New York, and we are desirous of purchasing at the needs of manufacturers in this locality as much as possible. In fact, this buying office will purchase for the Atlantic coast requirements which extend as far as South Carolina. "You have, undoubtedly, a list of manufacturers in your territory and will appreciate receiving a complete list, as early as possible, marked for the writer's attention, in order that we may communicate with the manufacturer."

SHEIMAN ARSON DEFENSE IS SET AHEAD 1 WEEK

So. Pearl Street Store Proprietor Prosecution Concludes Case. Justice Rogan Denies Motion for Dismissal of Charge.

Isadore Sheiman, proprietor of a haberdashery store at 149 South Pearl street, accused of attempted arson will offer a defense June 4 before Police Court Justice Edward G. Rogan. The prosecution, after swearing six witnesses closed its case yesterday.

Joseph L. Delaney, counsel for the accused youth, asked for dismissal of the charge and information at the conclusion of the prosecution, Justice Rogan denied the motion.

The boy has acted fair and square all through this entire transaction, Mr. Delaney said. "He opened the door to the store just as soon as he learned who was there and when questioned he explained his presence in the store. The only thing that has been proved against him is that he happened to come into the store after some one had created this situation."

Justice Rogan then denied the motion and Justice Delaney asked for a few days to obtain witnesses. The case was adjourned by consent of Frank L. Brandt, assistant district attorney, and Justice Rogan.

Witnesses who testified yesterday were: Sergeant John J. Feeley of the first precinct; Patrolman Frank Hart and Fire Chief Michael J. Fleming.

Sergeant Feeley testified that he had searched Sheiman at the second precinct and had found a candle in his overcoat pocket and a small amount of money.

Patrolman Hart, the first to answer the call at 149 South Pearl street, testified that he smelled a strong odor of gasoline as he entered the hallway. He told the case story as Captain Peter J. Reynolds gave it before about finding Sheiman in the store, and the oil or gasoline soaked paper beneath the work bench and two containers mixed up with paper half filled with gasoline.

Hart also said he remembered hearing a loud bang, but he did not know anything about the situation and that Sheiman had said he had come to the place to find pictures.

Chief Fleming, the final witness for the prosecution said: "When I got there I found a very strong odor of gasoline. I also found bundles of paper under the table which were saturated in gasoline. I found a trail of tissue paper from a box which was also wet. An electric iron was on the table. It was warm when I got there and I disconnected. I asked the defendant what time he had closed the store. He said about 7:30. I asked him what time he returned. He said about 11 o'clock. He said that he had a customary for him to return to the store. He said: 'Yes, many times. I said what do you think of this condition.' He said: 'Well, it looks suspicious. Was it there when you left?' Chief Fleming says he asked Sheiman.

"No, papers are usually cleaned up every day," the chief said. "Do you realize that a condition of that kind looks like an attempt at arson?" the chief testified he asked Sheiman. "The answer was 'Well, it don't look so good.'"

The chief said that Sheiman told him that only he and his father had keys to the place.

"I then asked him if he realized he was jeopardizing the lives of the people who live upstairs," the chief testified. "He said he didn't know."

Chief Fleming on cross examination, admitted that Sheiman had said he was coming to the store for pictures explaining his presence there and that Sheiman readily answered all questions.

CARD PARTY PLANNED. Mechanicsville court, Forerisers of America, will give a patriotic social and card party in Knights of Columbus hall on Friday night. The affair will be given by members of the order, and forty-five.

Mr. Bangs pointed out that one of the slogans of his company is "The manufacturer is as welcome in our building as is the customer." He said he is required to make the business of the firm a success.

More than 20,000 manufacturers are thinking about Albany now in terms of dollars and cents, and possibly location.

U. S. TO TEST ROADS WITH 14 INCH GUN

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP).—A fourteen inch gun, weighing with its mount 730,000 pounds, is to be sent from the proving ground at Aberdeen, Md., to the Presidio at San Francisco. The trip, starting June 10, will test the ability of transcontinental roads to move heavy ordnance.

SCHOOLS TO CLOSE. The Mechanicsville public schools will close tomorrow and Friday in observance of Memorial day and will reopen on Monday, June 3. The L. B. Blakeman library will be closed during the same period.

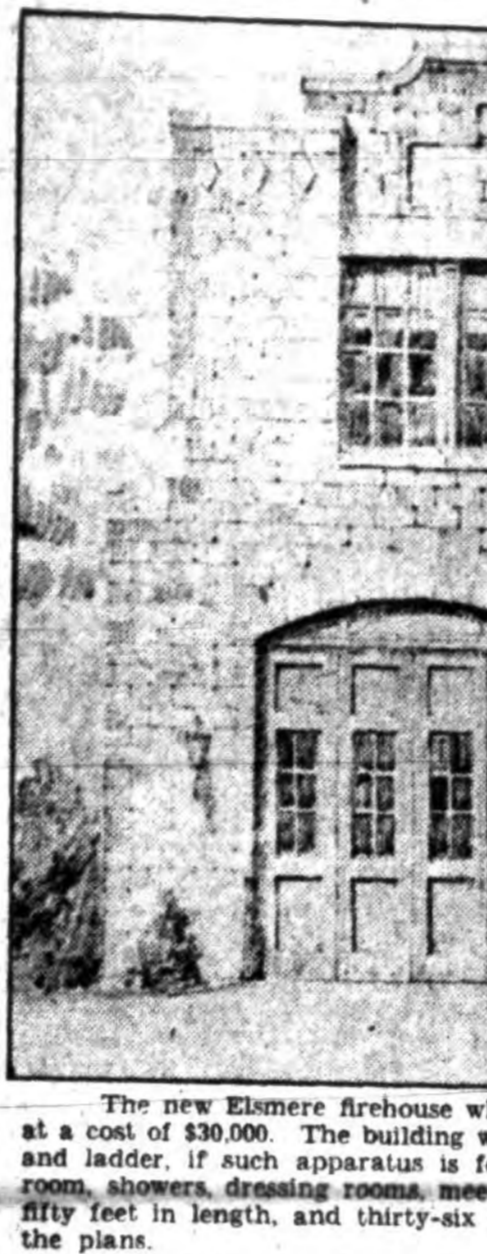

PORT TO HAVE TEE TO AID NIGHT FLIERS

Airport officials are equipping the Flyer's, Incorporated, hangar with a "wind tee," designed to show pilots the way the wind is blowing at night, aiding pilots in bringing their planes down after dark.

The "wind tee" is designed in the form of a miniature plane with a rudder. The device will be lighted by powerful lights so that it can be detected at a high altitude.

LAST WARNING OUT FOR TAX PAYMENTS

The last warning for county taxes, which were due January 1, 1928, was issued today by the county treasurer's office with the announcement that Saturday is the last day on which payment can be made. If taxes are not paid by Saturday, between 1,600 and 1,800 parcels of land will be advertised for sale. The taxes amount to about $250,000.

The new Elsmere firehouse which is to be erected on Herber street in back of St. Stephen's church. The building will house a pumper, which has already been purchased and a hook and ladder, if such apparatus is found to be necessary for the town. It will provide space for a locker room, showers, dressing rooms, meeting rooms and office. It is to be constructed of stone, and will be fifty feet in length, and thirty-six feet in width. Pember and Demers, Albany architects, are making the plans.

G. O. P. LEADERS SEE LAXITY IN HOSPITAL JOBS

State Architect Accused of Delaying Plans for Construction.

The division of architecture in the department of public works, headed by Colonel Frederick Stuart Greene, superintendent of public works, is charged with responsibility for the heavy overcrowding in the state's hospitals for the insane by the Republican financial leaders of the legislature in a letter to acting Governor Herbert H. Lehman.

Charging delays ranging from four to six years in hospital construction from the time the legislature made money available for the work, Senator Charles J. Hewitt, chairman of the senate finance committee, and Assemblyman Eberly Hutchinson, chairman of the assembly ways and means committee, urged Mr. Lehman to study the records of the department of public works to find the answer to the hospital conditions that "have so shocked you."

The two chairmen said a study of methods to, facilitate planning and construction is called for and offered "our hearty cooperation in putting through any plan that may seem advisable to expedite the work."

Mr. Lehman, who has been making a personal inspection of the hospitals, said he intends to reply to their letter.

Several years ago, former Governor Smith recognized that the state architect's office was the "bottle neck" holding up construction work, and additional funds for hiring outside architects to speed up the building program were made available.

The situation involved a controversy between Sullivan W. Jones, the former state architect, and Colonel Greene, who led to Jones' resignation, the amalgamation of the department of architecture with the department of public works, and the reelection of William A. Haugaard as Jones' successor.

Senator Hewitt and Mr. Hutchinson declared the state architect had been "grossly remiss in preparing plans and specifications for the work, letting contracts and pushing forward the actual construction."

Bathing Girls Must Cover Backs, Whalen Decrees

NEW YORK, May 29 (AP).—Sun back bathing suits have been decreed indecent for wear on city bathing beaches.

Police Commissioner Whalen in announcing his ban of the new bathing suits for women, said: "The police department doesn't want to be narrow minded in this matter, but the people of New York demand a certain standard of decency at their beaches."

PLAN ENTERTAINMENT

The safety committee of the Boston and Maine railroad will present an entertainment for the employees and their families in the Elks' building at Mechanicville on Friday night. The Delaware and Hudson minstrels will feature the program. Special trains will bring visitors to the city.

ELSMERE TO HAVE NEW FIRE HOUSE

The new Elsmere firehouse which is to be erected on Herber street in back of St. Stephen's church. The building will house a pumper, which has already been purchased and a hook and ladder, if such apparatus is found to be necessary for the town. It will provide space for a locker room, showers, dressing rooms, meeting rooms and office. It is to be constructed of stone, and will be fifty feet in length, and thirty-six feet in width. Pember and Demers, Albany architects, are making the plans.

G. A. R. VETERAN TO LEAD PARADE AT RENNELAER

Ceremonies at Soldiers and Sailors' Monument to Be Feature.

Magr. Glavin to Give Invocation; Children Will Sing.

A colorful parade and commemorative ceremonies at the Soldiers and Sailors' monument will be features of Rensselaer's Memorial day program tomorrow.

Fort Crailo post, American legion, is in charge of the arrangements, which have been perfected, according to Leonard Kirsch, commander, who will be master of ceremonies. Mayor James W. Adams will be grand marshal of the parade, and Commander James E. Johnson, the city's foremost G. A. R. veteran, honorary grand marshal.

The parade will move at 9:30 o'clock from the city hall, south in Broadway, to Third avenue, to the scene of the exercises. It will be in two sections, with music by the bugle and drum corps of the post and St. John's life and drum corps.

In the first division will be the drum corps of the post, police color guard, mayor and city officials, Daughters of the American Revolution, and Sons of Veterans.

The principal speaker at the exercises will be Leo Dooce, commissioner of charities of Albany. Mayor Adams will give an address and Clarence O. Brooks will give the definitions of the memorial tablet which will be unveiled.

Invocation will be given by the Rev. Monsignor John F. Glavin of St. John's church, and the benediction by the Rev. Gay D. McChesney of the Broadway Methodist church. Children of the Rensselaer schools, directed by Professor Frank McDonough, will sing patriotic songs and taps will be sounded by legion buglers.

The procession then will counter-march to post headquarters. After a rest of ten minutes the marchers will proceed to the Beverwyck cemetery for services. Commander James E. Johnson, post commander, will be in charge. A special program will be given by students of school 3.

Because of Memorial day, the Kiwanis club will have its meeting and luncheon tonight in Kapp's hotel. This will be the last affair at Kapp's post headquarters for the summer season, will be at the Edge-wood on the New York road. The first meeting at that place will be Thursday, June 6.

The Kiwanis club will have its meeting and luncheon tonight in Kapp's hotel. This will be the last affair at Kapp's post headquarters for the summer season, will be at the Edge-wood on the New York road. The first meeting at that place will be Thursday, June 6.

The Kiwanis club will have its meeting and luncheon tonight in Kapp's hotel. This will be the last affair at Kapp's post headquarters for the summer season, will be at the Edge-wood on the New York road. The first meeting at that place will be Thursday, June 6.

The Kiwanis club will have its meeting and luncheon tonight in Kapp's hotel. This will be the last affair at Kapp's post headquarters for the summer season, will be at the Edge-wood on the New York road. The first meeting at that place will be Thursday, June 6.

The Kiwanis club will have its meeting and luncheon tonight in Kapp's hotel. This will be the last affair at Kapp's post headquarters for the summer season, will be at the Edge-wood on the New York road. The first meeting at that place will be Thursday, June 6.

The Kiwanis club will have its meeting and luncheon tonight in Kapp's hotel. This will be the last affair at Kapp's post headquarters for the summer season, will be at the Edge-wood on the New York road. The first meeting at that place will be Thursday, June 6.

The Kiwanis club will have its meeting and luncheon tonight in Kapp's hotel. This will be the last affair at Kapp's post headquarters for the summer season, will be at the Edge-wood on the New York road. The first meeting at that place will be Thursday, June 6.

The Kiwanis club will have its meeting and luncheon tonight in Kapp's hotel. This will be the last affair at Kapp's post headquarters for the summer season, will be at the Edge-wood on the New York road. The first meeting at that place will be Thursday, June 6.

The Kiwanis club will have its meeting and luncheon tonight in Kapp's hotel. This will be the last affair at Kapp's post headquarters for the summer season, will be at the Edge-wood on the New York road. The first meeting at that place will be Thursday, June 6.

The Kiwanis club will have its meeting and luncheon tonight in Kapp's hotel. This will be the last affair at Kapp's post headquarters for the summer season, will be at the Edge-wood on the New York road. The first meeting at that place will be Thursday, June 6.

The Kiwanis club will have its meeting and luncheon tonight in Kapp's hotel. This will be the last affair at Kapp's post headquarters for the summer season, will be at the Edge-wood on the New York road. The first meeting at that place will be Thursday, June 6.

The Kiwanis club will have its meeting and luncheon tonight in Kapp's hotel. This will be the last affair at Kapp's post headquarters for the summer season, will be at the Edge-wood on the New York road. The first meeting at that place will be Thursday, June 6.

The Kiwanis club will have its meeting and luncheon tonight in Kapp's hotel. This will be the last affair at Kapp's post headquarters for the summer season, will be at the Edge-wood on the New York road. The first meeting at that place will be Thursday, June 6.

The Kiwanis club will have its meeting and luncheon tonight in Kapp's hotel. This will be the last affair at Kapp's post headquarters for the summer season, will be at the Edge-wood on the New York road. The first meeting at that place will be Thursday, June 6.

The Kiwanis club will have its meeting and luncheon tonight in Kapp's hotel. This will be the last affair at Kapp's post headquarters for the summer season, will be at the Edge-wood on the New York road. The first meeting at that place will be Thursday, June 6.

The Kiwanis club will have its meeting and luncheon tonight in Kapp's hotel. This will be the last affair at Kapp's post headquarters for the summer season, will be at the Edge-wood on the New York road. The first meeting at that place will be Thursday, June 6.

The Kiwanis club will have its meeting and luncheon tonight in Kapp's hotel. This will be the last affair at Kapp's post headquarters for the summer season, will be at the Edge-wood on the New York road. The first meeting at that place will be Thursday, June 6.

The Kiwanis club will have its meeting and luncheon tonight in Kapp's hotel. This will be the last affair at Kapp's post headquarters for the summer season, will be at the Edge-wood on the New York road. The first meeting at that place will be Thursday, June 6.

The Kiwanis club will have its meeting and luncheon tonight in Kapp's hotel. This will be the last affair at Kapp's post headquarters for the summer season, will be at the Edge-wood on the New York road. The first meeting at that place will be Thursday, June 6.

The Kiwanis club will have its meeting and luncheon tonight in Kapp's hotel. This will be the last affair at Kapp's post headquarters for the summer season, will be at the Edge-wood on the New York road. The first meeting at that place will be Thursday, June 6.

The Kiwanis club will have its meeting and luncheon tonight in Kapp's hotel. This will be the last affair at Kapp's post headquarters for the summer season, will be at the Edge-wood on the New York road. The first meeting at that place will be Thursday, June 6.

The Kiwanis club will have its meeting and luncheon tonight in Kapp's hotel. This will be the last affair at Kapp's post headquarters for the summer season, will be at the Edge-wood on the New York road. The first meeting at that place will be Thursday, June 6.

The Kiwanis club will have its meeting and luncheon tonight in Kapp's hotel. This will be the last affair at Kapp's post headquarters for the summer season, will be at the Edge-wood on the New York road. The first meeting at that place will be Thursday, June 6.

The Kiwanis club will have its meeting and luncheon tonight in Kapp's hotel. This will be the last affair at Kapp's post headquarters for the summer season, will be at the Edge-wood on the New York road. The first meeting at that place will be Thursday, June 6.

The Kiwanis club will have its meeting and luncheon tonight in Kapp's hotel. This will be the last affair at Kapp's post headquarters for the summer season, will be at the Edge-wood on the New York road. The first meeting at that place will be Thursday, June 6.

The Kiwanis club will have its meeting and luncheon tonight in Kapp's hotel. This will be the last affair at Kapp's post headquarters for the summer season, will be at the Edge-wood on the New York road. The first meeting at that place will be Thursday, June 6.

The Kiwanis club will have its meeting and luncheon tonight in Kapp's hotel. This will be the last affair at Kapp's post headquarters for the summer season, will be at the Edge-wood on the New York road. The first meeting at that place will be Thursday, June 6.

Harvard Youth Gets License to Wed; Third Time

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 29 (AP).—For the third time since last November John A. Otley of Waverly, Neb., student at Harvard law school, has obtained a license to marry Miss Ruth Miller, of Bellwood, Pa., senior at Boston university. He returned the first two licenses without explanation.

and construction is called for and offered "our hearty cooperation in putting through any plan that may seem advisable to expedite the work."

Mr. Lehman, who has been making a personal inspection of the hospitals, said he intends to reply to their letter.

Several years ago, former Governor Smith recognized that the state architect's office was the "bottle neck" holding up construction work, and additional funds for hiring outside architects to speed up the building program were made available.

The situation involved a controversy between Sullivan W. Jones, the former state architect, and Colonel Greene, who led to Jones' resignation, the amalgamation of the department of architecture with the department of public works, and the reelection of William A. Haugaard as Jones' successor.

Senator Hewitt and Mr. Hutchinson declared the state architect had been "grossly remiss in preparing plans and specifications for the work, letting contracts and pushing forward the actual construction."

The situation involved a controversy between Sullivan W. Jones, the former state architect, and Colonel Greene, who led to Jones' resignation, the amalgamation of the department of architecture with the department of public works, and the reelection of William A. Haugaard as Jones' successor.

Senator Hewitt and Mr. Hutchinson declared the state architect had been "grossly remiss in preparing plans and specifications for the work, letting contracts and pushing forward the actual construction."

The situation involved a controversy between Sullivan W. Jones, the former state architect, and Colonel Greene, who led to Jones' resignation, the amalgamation of the department of architecture with the department of public works, and the reelection of William A. Haugaard as Jones' successor.

Senator Hewitt and Mr. Hutchinson declared the state architect had been "grossly remiss in preparing plans and specifications for the work, letting contracts and pushing forward the actual construction."

The situation involved a controversy between Sullivan W. Jones, the former state architect, and Colonel Greene, who led to Jones' resignation, the amalgamation of the department of architecture with the department of public works, and the reelection of William A. Haugaard as Jones' successor.

Senator Hewitt and Mr. Hutchinson declared the state architect had been "grossly remiss in preparing plans and specifications for the work, letting contracts and pushing forward the actual construction."

The situation involved a controversy between Sullivan W. Jones, the former state architect, and Colonel Greene, who led to Jones' resignation, the amalgamation of the department of architecture with the department of public works, and the reelection of William A. Haugaard as Jones' successor.

Senator Hewitt and Mr. Hutchinson declared the state architect had been "grossly remiss in preparing plans and specifications for the work, letting contracts and pushing forward the actual construction."

The situation involved a controversy between Sullivan W. Jones, the former state architect, and Colonel Greene, who led to Jones' resignation, the amalgamation of the department of architecture with the department of public works, and the reelection of William A. Haugaard as Jones' successor.

Senator Hewitt and Mr. Hutchinson declared the state architect had been "grossly remiss in preparing plans and specifications for the work, letting contracts and pushing forward the actual construction."

The situation involved a controversy between Sullivan W. Jones, the former state architect, and Colonel Greene, who led to Jones' resignation, the amalgamation of the department of architecture with the department of public works, and the reelection of William A. Haugaard as Jones' successor.

Senator Hewitt and Mr. Hutchinson declared the state architect had been "grossly remiss in preparing plans and specifications for the work, letting contracts and pushing forward the actual construction."

The situation involved a controversy between Sullivan W. Jones, the former state architect, and Colonel Greene, who led to Jones' resignation, the amalgamation of the department of architecture with the department of public works, and the reelection of William A. Haugaard as Jones' successor.

Senator Hewitt and Mr. Hutchinson declared the state architect had been "grossly remiss in preparing plans and specifications for the work, letting contracts and pushing forward the actual construction."

The situation involved a controversy between Sullivan W. Jones, the former state architect, and Colonel Greene, who led to Jones' resignation, the amalgamation of the department of architecture with the department of public works, and the reelection of William A. Haugaard as Jones' successor.

Senator Hewitt and Mr. Hutchinson declared the state architect had been "grossly remiss in preparing plans and specifications for the work, letting contracts and pushing forward the actual construction."

MISS RICHARDS IS MARRIED TO RUTLAND MAN

Wedding Takes Place in Sacred Heart of Mary Church.

RUTLAND, May 29.—Miss Anna Mae Richards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Richards, of Lincoln avenue, and Leon Francis LaBrake, son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. LaBrake, of Davis street, were married by the Rev. L. A. Vezina in the Church of the Sacred Heart of Mary. They were attended by Miss Ruth LaBrake, of Davis street, and Edward Richards, of Lincoln avenue. Ushers were Hayden G. LaLouise Branchaud, played organ music, Miss Helen Marchand played violin solos and Miss Theresa Tye sang. The newlyweds are going through the Adirondacks on their wedding trip. They will live at 43 Lincoln avenue.

Miss Kathleen Roach was guest of honor at a party in Castle Inn, given by twelve friends in honor of her approaching marriage to Lloyd Sanders, of Brandon. A party for Miss Burke and Joseph Richards, Miss Loretta Lovelady, of James street, Miss Agnes Ducharme, of South street, Leo McCue of Royce street, and Gerald McCue of South Main street, was given at True Temper.

Miss Ducharme, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Ducharme, will be wed to Leo McCue, on June 3, at St. Peter's church. Miss Lovelady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Lovelady, will become the bride of Gerald McCue, June 19, at St. Peter's church. The two men are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis J. McCue of South Main street.

Marriage licenses have been issued to Paul Leo Fuszberg, of 80 Cleveland avenue, mechanic, and Miss Sylvia Maue Monahan, of 46 Pine street; Bernard McDonald Wilson, printer, of 110 Grand street, and Miss Madeline Rita Daley, of the same address; Alton E. Edred Tulper, of 40 Strong's avenue, blacksmith, and Miss Mary Catherine Burke, of the same address, and to Augustus Brewster, of 27 Kendall avenue, bookkeeper, and Miss Frances Helena Small, of 75 Killington avenue.

First class, troop 53, Castleton-Louis Hoffman; and Mrs. Greenbaum, troop 53, East Greenbush, were members of the Kiwanis club at their meeting last night.

First class, troop 53, Castleton-Louis Hoffman; and Mrs. Greenbaum, troop 53, East Greenbush, were members of the Kiwanis club at their meeting last night.

First class, troop 53, Castleton-Louis Hoffman; and Mrs. Greenbaum, troop 53, East Greenbush, were members of the Kiwanis club at their meeting last night.

First class, troop 53, Castleton-Louis Hoffman; and Mrs. Greenbaum, troop 53, East Greenbush, were members of the Kiwanis club at their meeting last night.

First class, troop 53, Castleton-Louis Hoffman; and Mrs. Greenbaum, troop 53, East Greenbush, were members of the Kiwanis club at their meeting last night.

First class, troop 53, Castleton-Louis Hoffman; and Mrs. Greenbaum, troop 53, East Greenbush, were members of the Kiwanis club at their meeting last night.

First class, troop 53, Castleton-Louis Hoffman; and Mrs. Greenbaum, troop 53, East Greenbush, were members of the Kiwanis club at their meeting last night.

First class, troop 53, Castleton-Louis Hoffman; and Mrs. Greenbaum, troop 53, East Greenbush, were members of the Kiwanis club at their meeting last night.

First class, troop 53, Castleton-Louis Hoffman; and Mrs. Greenbaum, troop 53, East Greenbush, were members of the Kiwanis club at their meeting last night.

First class, troop 53, Castleton-Louis Hoffman; and Mrs. Greenbaum, troop 53, East Greenbush, were members of the Kiwanis club at their meeting last night.

First class, troop 53, Castleton-Louis Hoffman; and Mrs. Greenbaum, troop 53, East Greenbush, were members of the Kiwanis club at their meeting last night.

First class, troop 53, Castleton-Louis Hoffman; and Mrs. Greenbaum, troop 53, East Greenbush, were members of the Kiwanis club at their meeting last night.

First class, troop 53, Castleton-Louis Hoffman; and Mrs. Greenbaum, troop 53, East Greenbush, were members of the Kiwanis club at their meeting last night.

First class, troop 53, Castleton-Louis Hoffman; and Mrs. Greenbaum, troop 53, East Greenbush, were members of the Kiwanis club at their meeting last night.

First class, troop 53, Castleton-Louis Hoffman; and Mrs. Greenbaum, troop 53, East Greenbush, were members of the Kiwanis club at their meeting last night.

First class, troop 53, Castleton-Louis Hoffman; and Mrs. Greenbaum, troop 53, East Greenbush, were members of the Kiwanis club at their meeting last night.

First class, troop 53, Castleton-Louis Hoffman; and Mrs. Greenbaum, troop 53, East Greenbush, were members of the Kiwanis club at their meeting last night.

COLUMBIA HISTORIAN TO SPEAK IN ALBANY

Dr. Dixon Ryan Fox, Columbian university professor and one of the foremost authorities on colonial history, will be the speaker at the next meeting of Philip Livingston chapter, Sons of the Revolution, the night of June 5 at the De Witt Clinton hotel.

It had been originally planned to have the work completed for Memorial day, but it has been delayed because of inclement weather.

LA SALLE CADETS PARADE. Cadets of the LaSalle institute of Troy conducted a review and drill this afternoon at the Troy armory before Sisters of St. Joseph, Sisters of Mercy, Sisters of Charity and students of the seventh and eighth grades of parochial schools. The drill was in preparation for the annual competitive drill and review to be conducted Friday at the armory. The cadets will appear tomorrow in the annual Memorial day parade.

John Worden, Troy, federal income tax representative, was in the city hall yesterday, interviewing several residents cited for errors in their income tax reports.

RENNELAER NOTES

Greenbush chapter, Royal Arch Masons, will have a regular business meeting, Monday night, in the Masonic temple. J. Fred Clark, Jr., high priest, will preside.

The benefit carnival of Fort Crailo post, American legion, is attracting large crowds to Bonacker's park, off Broadway. The affair will continue for a week.

Concrete Faults Laid