

FUTURE RELIEF PLAN OUTLINED

Bennett Sees Program Put on Permanent Basis

Development of state administrative machinery for the handling of public relief on a permanent basis is ahead, Attorney General Bennett last night told the annual meeting of the Association of Public Welfare Officers at the Ten Eyck Hotel.

The attorney general sees a relief program without any reflection of politics. He also believes the so-called temporary emergency legislation from the depression is at an end.

We are therefore concerned no longer with a temporary emergency law with temporary relief," he said. "We are concerned with stabilizing the machinery of government, as well as the stabilization of the economic and social forces in the nation so there may come peace and orderliness in our political and economic life."

Traces History of Relief

"It is believed now that for a long time to come the distribution of public relief in the form of the necessities of life, whether in cash or in kind, will be a permanent phase of social welfare work of the state and of its subdivisions."

Present day labor disturbances the attorney general viewed as occurrence of a "healthy body politic." He traced the history of relief from the Pharaohs, through Crete and Sparta, the Roman Empire and feudalism.

The burden of relief, he said, despite private charity, continues to fall on the state. Fundamentally, he believes, the problem of relief is a local one. He stressed the need of separating relief and politics.

Others Speak

"In the years to come," he declared, "when history will have recorded its judgment upon the program that is now being initiated, both in national and state governments, I am confident there will be celebrated the birth of a plan of social welfare in this period of our history which will then have been found to be just, humane, modern, scientific and successful."

Victor Ridder, president of the New York State Board of Social Welfare and former Works Progress administrator in this period of our history, which will then have been found to be just, humane, modern, scientific and successful.

CAR OWNER DONATES $10 TO POLICE FUND

Albany police, by quick recovery of a stolen automobile, have enriched their pension fund by $10.

John Vogel Jr., 132 Hamilton street, made the contribution after his car, taken from a downtown parking place, had been recovered in New York Central Avenue.

OUT THAT COLD

-Roots and All-Give It No Chance to Sprout Anew!

Take no cold lightly! The so-called "common cold" is often the start of more serious trouble—flu and pneumonia, for example.

Treat a cold to root it, not merely to subdue it!

Depend on no half-way measures. A cold, being an internal infection, must be got at from the inside.

Treat a cold with a cold preparation, not with a medicine good for all kinds of ailments.

The wise treatment is Groves' Laxative Bromo Quinine.

Expressly For Colds!

Bromo Quinine is a cold tablet, made expressly for the treatment of colds.

It is also internal treatment and of four important effects:

First, Bromo Quinine opens the bowels, a desirable step in the treatment of colds.

Second, it checks the infection in the system, a vital step.

Third, it relieves the headache and fever.

Fourth, it tones the system and helps fortify against further attack.

The Action Called For

These are the four effects a cold calls for and in Bromo Quinine you get it in the form of a single tablet.

Bromo Quinine tablets now come sugar-coated as well as plain.

The sugar-coated are exactly the same as the regular, except that the tablets are coated with sugar for palatability.

Be wise—play safe! The moment you feel a cold coming on, go right to your drugstore for a package of Groves' Laxative Bromo Quinine.

Begin taking the tablets immediately, two every four hours. That procedure will often break up a cold in 24 hours.

Bromo Quinine contains nothing harmful and is safe to take. Ask for, and insist upon, Groves' Bromo Quinine. The coat is small, but the stain is large.

NEW CAR LAW TRIAL PUSHED

Schenectady Man Faces Court in Negligence Death Case

Schenectady—Dubious distinction has come to John Kelly of 935 Emmett Street, for he is the first to face trial here under indictment charging criminal negligence in operating an automobile under a new section of the penal law.

Kelly's trial which opened yesterday in County Court before Judge James W. Liddle and a jury is based on the death of Greg Alvin Regels, 40, of 432 Summit Avenue, on Nov. 20 in the Duaneburg Road opposite the B. J. Waldron farm.

According to the testimony of Stephen C. Skotorzok of 826 Michigan Avenue, Regels was riding in the Waldron place on Skotorzok's truck. Arriving at Regels' destination, the truckman said he drove off the left side of the Duaneburg Road and Regels descended from the cab to the pavement.

As Regels stood with his hand on the cab door conversing with Skotorzok, Kelly's auto struck him, tossing his body 50 feet. Kelly halted some 400 feet farther on. Kelly backed up to the body and helped the driver to lift Regels into it. When Kelly's car would not start again being out of gas, another machine was halted.

Regels was transferred to it for the trip to Ellis Hospital where he was declared dead.

Reginald C. Dawson, deputy sheriff, testified that when he reached the accident scene, there was a "strong odor of alcoholic beverages" in Kelly's car. Kelly told him, Dawson said, that he had been up all night, and had "had a few beers." The witness described Kelly's eyes as bloodshot and his clothing badly soiled. The trial was resumed today.

INQUIRY ORDERED IN FATAL SHOOTING

Watertown.—(AP)—District Attorney Carl J. Hynes said he would hold an inquest into the fatal shooting of Spiney Coburn, 2.

Mr. Hynes said he would confer with Dr. G. J. Franceschi, who examined the body after the Coburn boy was found fatally shot with a high-powered rifle bullet in a neighbor's home Saturday night.

The district attorney said Fred Miller Jr. had admitted firing the fatal shot as the two boys were playing "cowboy and Indian," after saying at first that the Coburn boy had shot himself when he dropped the weapon.

Mr. Hynes has indicated that he believed the shooting was accidental. Schoolmates of the victim will be bearers at his funeral this afternoon.

"Why I Choose CAMELS"

"I'M A SECRETARY," says Judy Libby, "and I often eat in a hurry. When I enjoy Camels with my food I feel on top of the world."

"I WANT A CIGARETTE that doesn't jangle my nerves," says motor-pusher Dan Rafferty. "And Camels don't. Camels are mild!"

JIMMIE FOXX slugging first baseman of the Boston Red Sox says:

"I STICK by Camels and Camels stick by me. Camels set me right. I smoke Camels for their refreshing 'lift,' and for the aid they give my digestion. Camels help me feel my food agrees with me."

At mealtimes Camels are an aid to digestion—speeding up the flow of digestive fluids—increasing alkalinity—bringing a sense of well-being. Steady smokers prefer Camels. They are so mild!

GOING DOWN the compression locks. Sidney S. Wetzel, tunnel engineer says: "My work involves danger. But Camels don't fizzle my nerves."

THE LIGHTNING SWAMP-PLAY of Bela de Tasson, fencing instructor, is faster than the eye. He says: "I welcome the 'lift' in energy I get with a Camel."

THE CHAMPION GIRL bronco-buster and rodeo star, Russ Davis, says: "The Camels I smoke with my meals and after are most enjoyable."

"MARK ME DOWN as a man who appreciates how mild and tasty Camels are," says all-events bowling champion, Johnny Murphy.

NFL OUTBOARD MOTOR-BOAT CHAMPION, Fred Lemby, Jr. says: "My condition is important. That's why Camels is my cigarette," says Fred.

"CAMELS help keep me pepped up," TWA hostess, Betty Steffen, says. "I see many famous people. And most of them smoke Camels."

CHIEF ENGINEER George J. Buckingham shows up with Camels before clearing port. He says: "It's a strain keeping machinery under control. Camels help ease the tension."
